CARRANZA IN SPEECH
WARNS OTHER NATIONS
TO RESPECT MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1—"Mexico will maintain her sovereignty unharmed and absolutely cannot accept any limitations on the liberty of her citizens," President Carranza stated in his message tonight at the opening of the Mexican congress. He warned foreign diplomats and ambassadors to caution their governments that no action should be taken which would involve serious international disputes. He asserted that the Mexican government was making every effort to maintain order and law and was succeeding to an appreciable degree. He declared that Mexico would assume full responsibility of her obligations to foreign nations.

SENATOR CUMMINGS INTRODUCES PLAN FOR RUNNING RAILROADS

C. C. will have control of all stock and bond issues and determine fair return problems. The bill will mean an ultimate reorganization of the roads into twenty to thirty-five competing roads. The employees and the public are each to have two members on the board of directors. Methods of distributing earnings and surplus are provided.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2—President Wilson will hold a final meeting this afternoon with his cabinet. He desires to dispose of as much administrative business as possible before leaving on his trip tomorrow.

KARTHAUS-SURVEYOR GAME
AS SEEN BY A SPECTATOR

The game between Karthaus and Surveyor, played at Karthaus, Pa., Saturday, August 30th, resulted in a score of 9 to 0, in favor of Karthaus in six innings of play.

The score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Karthaus at the beginning of the sixth inning. In Surveyor's half they got three men on bases (two due to errors) and with two men down and two strikes called on the batter up, the runner on third attempted to steal home, but was caught by Rees, (Karthaus catcher) and because this score was not allowed the Surveyor team refused to finish the game and forfeited same to Karthaus 9 to 0.

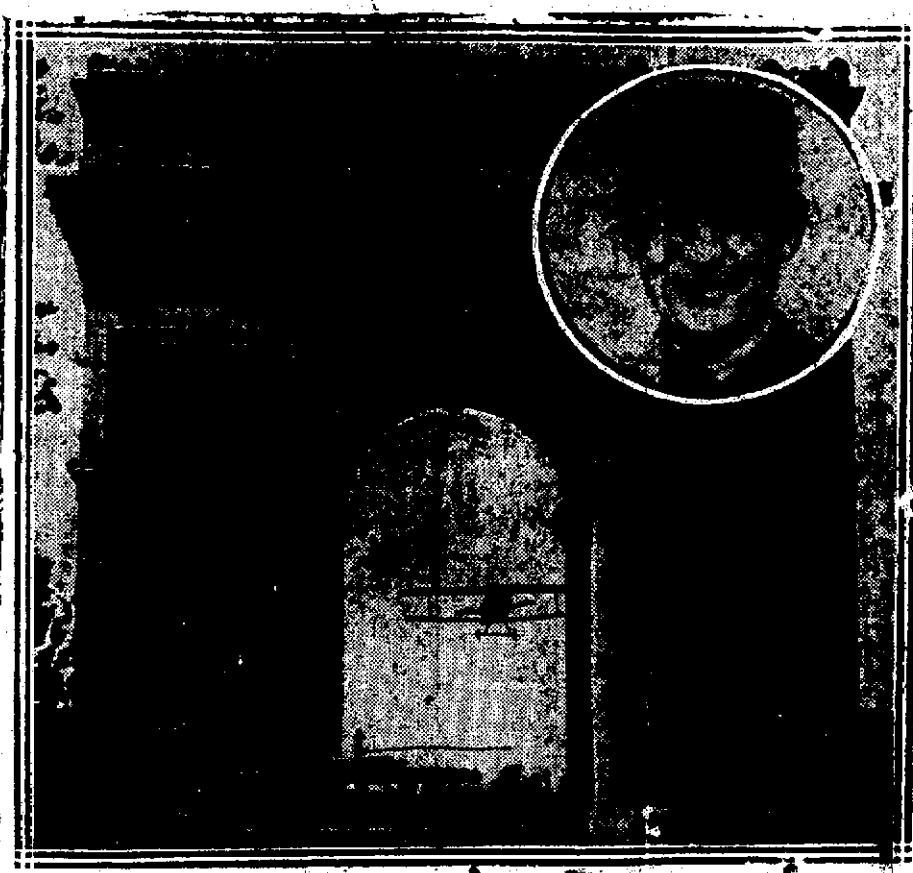

This is not the first instance in which Manager McCrory and his Surveyor bunch have developed "yellow streaks" in their ball-playing here. On August 9th the Surveyor team showed up at Karthaus with a "stuffed" nine, having only four or five players from Surveyor in their line-up, and with Bowes, one of Clearfield's best players to pitch the game. Karthaus, on the other hand was in a crippled condition, the best players of the infield being absent. In this game the Surveyor team won 6 to 0, and it was only by the excellent work of Karthaus battery that the score was kept down to that figure, only about three of their runs being earned. In the game of August 9th, Bowes and Bain were the battery used by Surveyor and Rolley and Bradford by Karthaus. It was understood that McCrory expected to use Bowes and Lester of Clearfield in last Saturday's game, therefore Karthaus engaged the services of Montgomery (a south-paw pitcher) and Long (second-baseman) of Bellefonte, with both Bradford and Rees behind the bat during the six innings of play. The Clearfield players expected by Surveyor did not show up, so Kratzer and Bain were the battery used.

Montgomery, pitching for Karthaus, used nothing but a straight ball with oceans of smoke and speed on it, and the Surveyor sluggers were cut down on strike-outs at the rate of about two men per inning. In short, it seemed that the Surveyor team knew they were "likked" and thought it best to quit before the score became too one-sided, so seized upon the first opportunity to do so, even though the game and expense money was forfeited.

DEATH DEFYING FEAT OF FRENCH AVIATOR—Another "freak record" has been set by an aviator. Landing on rooftops and other stunts created interest when done, but here is a man who flies through an archway and comes through unscathed. Charles Godefroy, a French pilot is the man who did it, and the Arc de Triomphe in Paris was the one thru which he passed.

BOARDMAN WONDER
WINS MATCH WITH
MORT HENDERSON

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief. All were on deck last night to witness the premier sporting event of the season locally when Mort Henderson, the Altoona professional wrestler went to the mat (shoulders pinned fast) with Leslie Roberts, the Boardman find of Promoter Katzman.

The house exceeded the fondest expectations of Mr. Katzman and the most conservative estimate places the attendance over five hundred. The preliminaries were good and fast and there were not enough of them to tire the crowd while waiting for the big doings.

Cathcart of Turkey Hill and Geo. Fehl of Clearfield were the first on the board and these two young bloods gave a magnificent exhibition of the sport until Cathcart was injured and had to quit the match. Fehl threw Cathcart at the end of a three minute, twenty second tussle using a head and arm hold. It was apparent that in the struggle Cathcart had been severely injured but he gamely stuck on his feet and answered the call of the referee for the second try. Cathcart grew weaker however and on the urgent advice of his seconds conceded the match to Fehl. Cathcart is an able boy and the fans were sorry to see him put out of the game. It is reported today that Cathcart has two broken ribs. He suffered a great deal of pain last evening.

Barone of Boardman and Gardner of Clearfield put on an equally interesting match. Barone being a newcomer at the game was continually on the defensive and held out against the Clearfield boy for almost ten minutes when a body scissor and arm lock brought him to the mat and held him helpless. At the end of the bout Barone was as fresh as a daisy and a good future is promised the boy.

While the crowd was plainly disappointed at the difference in size between the two main cards of the evening this was more than made up by the local interest in Roberts and the fine sportsmanlike attitude of his opponent from Altoona. Henderson is a veritable giant, weighing in at 210 pounds stripped, and along side of him Roberts looked like a pigny. Roberts was game however and approached his man with a show of confidence that brought applause from the fans. The first fall did not come until the two grapplers had warily side stepped and sparred for holds for more than twenty minutes followed by more or less mixing it up by quick lightning like movements. Repeatedly it appeared that the big fellow had Roberts in bad position but just as often a quick snakelike motion would bring his liberation. It soon became apparent that Mort was quite sure of his man and that he was throwing precaution to the winds. The first fall came at the end of thirty minutes and

YESTERDAY

Old Town Goes Limit To Show

Men Who Made History

VISITORS HAD ROYAL TIME

Curwensville, Sept. 2—Yesterday will prove a memorial day in the history of Curwensville. For more than a month advertisements had been spread broadcast all over the county announcing that Curwensville was going to observe Labor Day in proper manner and combining sports and other amusements, the main feature of the day was the welcoming home of the soldiers and sailors who served in the World war by giving them a free dinner. The different committees having in charge the routine of the work, in its different branches, deserve considerable credit and praise for the manner in which their efforts were carried forward to a most successful day and time.

The rain of Sunday night sort of put a damper on the spirits of our citizens generally, and it looked very much as though the weather gauge was in a rage and had determined to make yesterday a wet day, but this did not prove to be the case, as the day opened with Old Sol sending forth rays of sunshine and warmth which made everything glad and everybody got busy hanging out decorations and preparing for the parade. The line was formed at 9:45, and was composed of two divisions the first division following on State street, right resting on Locust. The second division followed on Locust, with right resting on State street. The parade then moved up State to west end of town and countering turned at the Kirk corner to South Side. Following was the order:

"KISS ME AGAIN
THEN TAKE ME
DRIGGS TOWN"

The fact that Frederick V. Driggs is the star of "Kiss Me Again" will be seen tonight at the theatre is reason enough why should go and see the production. Mr. Bowers, in addition to being one of the country's best composers and many of his ballads are played in every home in the land. But there are other reasons for going to see "Kiss Me Again". In the first place it is an unusually good musical play, in second place, the cast contains well known musical comedy actors and besides there are pretty girls, and all that goes to make a good show of true Broadway proportions. Everywhere "Kiss Me Again" has been seen it has left a long and agreeable criticism behind it and only persons who speak adversely of these who find nothing quite up to their conception of what a show should be. Seats are now on sale.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH
NEWS

Trinity Methodist Church and upon the fall campaign with a program that is cut but is no ordinary, and it ought to command the interest of every family of church.

The Wednesday evening meal will combine Bible study and prayer. The letter of St. Paul to the Philippians is the scripture selected for each person is requested to bring a Bible for use in the service. An opportunity for discussion will be afforded.

We appreciate this attraction furnished by Mr. Griesmer gratis and it was to be one of the leading cards in the parade. The parade drew many people to Curwensville who otherwise would not have been here at all. This was the first opportunity that we country folks had to view an airplane at so close range, and we surely took advantage of it.

After the air machine had passed into the clouds and was hidden from view, the immense throng, viewing their way to the grounds and prepared to eat a good dinner at stands, stalls and baskets. Finding their repast the people stood about the grounds, eagerly awaiting the time for the sports to be put off as advertised, and the following program was faithfully carried during the afternoon:

100 yd. dash	3.00
Running broad jump	3.00
Running High Jump	3.00
Fat Man's Race	3.00
Three-Legged race	4.00
Sack Race	2.00
Tub Race	2.00
Tug of War	5.00
Greased Pole Climb	Ham
Pie Eating contest	1.00

Both the Keystone and Crescent bands were on the grounds and the afternoon and pleased the people with their excellent music. Without further comment the parade of Curwensville has two good points as can be found in this program state.

A few words relative to the parade will not be amiss right here. 100 soldier boys were in line, were commanded by Lieutenant William Wolf. They certainly made a handsome appearance and marching was in accord with training. There was not a bunch of men, of all the represented but what made a fine parade. Of the boys floats represented in the parade were beauties and unique. In fact it would be matter for anyone to name and most beautiful for all were designed and put to a master's mind and hand. The statement that no town in field county ever paraded a line of floats than was yesterday's parade of Curwensville.

As the evening shades gathered, lovers of a game sought the athletic and witnessed a close sport defeating the team. This ended the parade and when darkness came land several thousand Curwensville citizens

JUDGE LOVETT'S VIEW

The "Plumb Plan" is an out and out effort to Russianize America by peaceful methods until the power is fully in the hands of the laboring classes, said Judge Lovett, president of the Union Pacific Railway today in an interview. The "Plumb Plan" is the most bold and barefaced attempt at the wholesale robbery of a nation that has ever been attempted anywhere outside of Russia he said. The plan, Judge Lovett said, is the opening wedge for the sovietizing of all industry, and the final theft of all property by those who have envy in their hearts in place of the industry, that made the man of property. He declared that when the American people are fully awake to the actual trend of affairs in this country as indicated by the present industrial strikes and unrest, they will crush this effort of the malcontents to bring about national ruin and sequestration.

Judge Lovett declared that much of this element is completely out of control of its former sane and sensible leaders, and that it is now listening to the whispers of the radicals and Bolsheviks who are secretly promising looted riches and all other licenses.

NEW GRAND JURY PLAN WORKING

The new plan of calling the Grand Jury to pass upon the criminal cases to come before them some two weeks previous to the regular criminal court, recently decided upon by District Attorney Arnold and Judge Bell, is being tried out this week. The Grand Jury was called Monday morning and after appointing Daniel Marshall, of Brady township, as foreman, Judge Bell instructed the Grand Jurors as to their duties under the new plan of procedure.

The first case was taken up after the noon recess and since that time a great deal of business has been disposed of.

Under this plan the criminal court will know just what business is to be disposed of and the principals in each case will be notified at what particular time they are scheduled for trial. Then, too, there will be no waiting on Grand Jury action by the court and the business of criminal week should be greatly facilitated thereby.

HIGHER CIVILIZATION.

No truer nor better can civilization be defined, than in the language of our own Ralph Waldo Emerson, who while having gone to the grave years and years ago, yet lives, says Knoxville Journal and Tribune. He said: "The truest test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops, no, but the kind of men it turns out." We have statesmen, professional men, men in the walks of life who will measure up to a high standard; but will it be said we have many who will thus measure? Judged by that standard, can it be said that ours is a country that may justly lay claim to a high standard of civilization, or to anything like the highest attainable? Pages and chapters, volumes, have been written and read, and studied telling how to improve the quality of our domestic animals, with a view to the enhancement of their usefulness, to improve their appearance and approach perfection in the qualities upon which their usefulness is based. So it is, we have some women and some men who are taking an interest in the improvement of physical manhood. It is being claimed that a strong mind can do better work and more of it if encased in a sound, strong body, and to this end some interesting surveys have been and are being made.

A great many statesmen of the central powers are still living in the past. Poor old Czernin, who used to alternate as foreign minister with Burian, keeps on crying to the ghost of defeat, like Macbeth to Banquo's ghost. "Never shake thy gory locks at me," Austria, he says, was always willing that Germany should evacuate all Russian territory occupied by German troops. But Germany proved to be the obdurate party. Yet how about the case of Roumania? Did not Hungary try to satisfy some of her own little imperialist ends in the treaty of Bucharest? Czernin says he resigned in disgust after the signing of this treaty, which may well be, says New York Post. But the dual monarchy, at any rate, no more than Germany, could resist the temptation to loot its neighbors when opportunity offered. Had it not been for Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest there might never have been that terrible armistice of souls.

The last generation was reading in fiction of wonderful feats in air and under water for amusement. This generation is reading in its newspapers, facts surpassing the imaginary feats of former times as part of present daily life.

MRS. JESSIE C. SCHAEFFER
Instructor in 'Cello and Piano

'CELLO TAUGHT BY A TRUE ARTIST AT THE SUSQUEHANNA COLLEGE OF MUSIC

In teaching 'cello, that incomparable instrument, the Susquehanna College of Music is fortunate in having the services of Mrs. Jessie C. Schaeffer at the head of the department.

The full, round tones, the marvelous resemblance to a rich baritone voice, the almost human quality that can be drawn from the 'cello make it an instrument worthy of the closest study. To the pupils who consider the study of the 'cello, Mrs. Schaeffer has an experience to guide her, in her teaching that is seldom equaled outside of the largest conservatories. During 1917 Mrs. Schaeffer achieved great success with the Blondelle Ver Trease Concert Company. This company travelled extensively reaching the Pacific Coast on the tour. Mrs. Schaeffer was also a co-artist with Madame Edla Lund, the Swedish soprano. Her orchestral work with the Plover Symphony Orchestra, of Peoria, Ill., gave her a reputation in orchestra and ensemble music that enables Mrs. Schaeffer an ideal experience to impart to the students under her charge.

'Cello students are being enrolled at the College now and if you contemplate the study of this marvelous instrument; you should enroll now while you have choice of study hours.

HEAVY CUT IN COAL YIELD BY CAR SHORTAGE

Twelve Million Tons Lost in Ten Weeks By Inadequate Supply of Cars

600,000 MINERS PLAN TO ASK WAGE INCREASE

Operators Tell Senate Committee That Radical Miners Are Trying to Install Convict Methods in Mining.

Washington.—(Special.)—Shortage of cars in the coal fields has cut production of bituminous coal 12,000,000 tons in ten weeks and threatens to bring about a recurrence of the coal famine of 1917-18, unless checked without delay, according to testimony given by John Callahan, traffic manager of the National Coal Association, before the Senate committee investigating the coal situation, at its first day's hearing here.

"During the two weeks ending August 2 and 9," Mr. Callahan said, "car shortage caused the bituminous coal mines of the country to lose approximately 5,900,000 tons of coal, enough to supply the entire state of New Jersey for ten months. The loss in ten weeks has been sufficient to supply all the New England states for eight months."

Mr. Callahan declared that if there are not cars at the mines it is impossible to operate the mines to full-time capacity. The shortage of cars had come, he said, at the time demand for coal is increasing, and at a time when railroad efficiency should be at a maximum.

"If the bituminous coal operators of the country are given sufficient cars to take away the coal from the mine," Mr. Callahan said, "and if there are no labor disturbances to prevent the operation of their mines, they can supply sufficient fuel to meet the country's requirements next fall and winter. If they are not supplied with more cars, there undoubtedly will be a repetition of the coal shortage of 1917-18, at least to some degree."

Shortage of cars is not alone the only threatening situation in the industry, however, according to Harry N. Taylor of Kansas City, president of the association, who preceded Mr. Callahan on the witness stand. The 600,000 miners employed throughout the nation are about to formulate demands for higher wages, Mr. Taylor declared. The more radical among the number, he said, were endeavoring to apply the methods of the Soviet government of Russia to the bituminous industry. If their counsel should sway the more conservative of their numbers and extremely radical demands should be made, which could not be acceded to, Mr. Taylor said he doubted if the operators "could mine a pound of coal."

"To save the public from calamity," Mr. Taylor said, "it will be necessary to overcome three things; first, that we do not have an extraordinary severe winter; second, that the railroad administration move the coal in a regular manner, and third, that by effort of the miners we produce at least 11,000,000 tons of bituminous coal weekly for the remaining nineteen weeks of the year."

This is more than has been produced in any one week during the year thus far.

All wage agreements between miners and operators, Mr. Taylor said, would expire with the proclamation of peace by the President. The miners had already decided, Mr. Taylor said he was informed, in one section, to try to obtain a six hour working day, as against eight hours now, a five day week, and an increase in pay. They will meet in Cleveland, Ohio, September 9 he said, to decide on what demands to make of the operators, and there will be a joint conference between operators and miners at Buffalo September 25th.

"If this convention of September 25th fails in agreement," Mr. Taylor said, "I do not know whether we are going to be able to mine any coal or not. I very seriously doubt whether we will. With that condition confronting us in the mining world, the situation is very serious. If that goes into effect there is little or no hope of overcoming a very serious shortage of coal this winter and great suffering in the country."

Miners were given a substantial increase in wages by the President during the days of the fuel administration, Mr. Taylor said, and it was not uncommon in many fields for the industrious men, in times of full-time operation, to earn $15 a day or more. But they are getting restless, he said. "Already the more radical element are determined to put into effect the Soviet government of mines," he declared.

For hundreds of years the Nile floods have not varied ten days in their season.

Europe Must Get to Work if It Is to Be Saved, but It Must Be Helped

By FRANK A. VANDERLIP, New York Banker

There are forces of destruction which might be let loose as a result of after-war conditions that would be more fearful than the great war itself.

These are starvation, idle industry, crippled transportation, paralyzed markets, injured morale, shattered government credits.

Europe is but a great factory community, dependent in the main on world trade for much of its food and raw materials. There are only three ways in which they can pay for these things—by export of goods, by export of gold or by export of their credit. None of these nations can export goods at present, and they have no gold to spare. They must have credit.

Europe must get to work if it is to be saved, but it must be helped even to start to work.

America must be made to see the facts in their true relation and consequences, for America is almost the sole hope. If America will understand the situation and do her duty she is amply able to give the necessary aid.

This aid must be given in a big-spirited, scientific way. It is useless to give it in grudging measure or piecemeal to a few countries. We must regard the European situation as a unit.

Coupled with its duty America is face to face with its greatest opportunity. If the opportunity is grasped America will become the source of capital for world development and the greatest source of raw material for the world's industry.

Koreans Are Fish in a Red-Hot Frying-Pan, With the Jap as the Cook

By PYONG K. YOON, Korean National Association

To make the long story very short, I compare the situation of the Koreans in Korea at the present to that of a bunch of live fishes in a red-hot frying pan, with the Jap as the cook. God help us!

The Japanese unbearable oppression, tyranny and torture of the Koreans beyond endurance limits during the last fifteen years has driven the Koreans to the verge of starvation, and when the Koreans rise up to protest the Japs' tyranny and robbery the Japanese massacre the Koreans with bayonets, swords and guns, as at present, and term the Korean patriots "mobs," "bandits," etc.

Say what they may, but we Koreans are determined to regain our freedom, our country, our independence from Japan.

Rubberized Silks in Bathing Suits

Looking over the newest things in bathing suits one might easily conclude that fair bathers object to getting wet and only go into the water to get cool, or to be "in the swim" with their sister bathers. What they really object to (unless they possess Venus de Medic figures) is the way in which bathing togs cling and stick and the somewhat bedraggled appearance they are likely to make when they come out of the water. Nothing escapes the notice of the keen manufacturers of bathing togs and they have met this situation with suits on the order of that one shown in the picture.

Rubberized silk in rose color is used to make the shapely and modest overdress in this suit and it is trimmed with black and white checkered bands that give it a lot of snap. The long-waisted body is gathered into a wide flat band with the fullness brought to the sides and the skirt is managed in the same way, so that even bathing suits take note of the wider hips that are indicated in styles for fall.

The knickers for this suit are made of black satin and a vestee of the same material in the overdress bears them company. Black silk stockings and black satin slippers take care of the feet in an effective but inconspicuous fashion, while a gay little four-cornered cap of rose-colored rubber cloth puts a pretty finishing touch to the outfit.

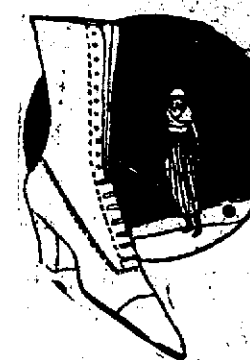

As no one aspires to a deep coat of tan this year, a black and white striped parasol lends its aid to face creams to keep the face and neck from too much sunburn.

Rubberized silks in brilliant colors have been used in much more elaborate beach clothes than this very sensible suit, and even for those who prefer silk or wool in their swimming clothes, mantles and capes of rubberized silk prove slightly for wear on the beach and for the walk to and from it.

Pile Fabrics Popular

The prophecy that, when the price of a pile fabric clashes with that of a fair quality fur, the latter is preferred, does not seem to be borne out in the operations of the cloak manufacturers for fall. Pile fabrics in the most expensive makes are proving so popular with the buyers that it is estimated the supply is going to fall far short of the demand. The pile fabric makers believe that the most important reason for this successful competition of their product with fur is that the imitation has reached a stage where it is difficult to tell the difference between it and the real thing. Another reason ascribed is the better wearing quality of the artificial fur.

Quality Footwear For Fall

Quality combined with excellence of style at reasonable prices.

This is our argument. We are doing our part to lower living costs by giving the utmost in value at prices that mean a saving of dollars.

The new boots for fall are beautiful in design and workmanship. The variety is large affording ample opportunity to match your new gown—and the prices are very moderate.

The Instrument of Recognized Supremacy—The Kurtzman

"Tonal Quality", that most indefinable foundation of music, sings like a lark in the sweet, dulcet notes of the Kurtzman. The wonderful tonal quality is the result of almost a century of scientific craftsmanship.

We illustrate the Kurtzman "Style E" Baby Grand, upon which so many world-famous artists have played their way to the top. Its presence in your home will assure complete satisfaction for a lifetime—we have ONE to sell at the old price.

Camel Cigarettes

CAMELS are as delightful to your taste as they are new. And, so satisfying that they meet every cigarette desire you ever have had.

Camels are unusual; in fact they're unlike any cigarette you ever smoked. That's because they're an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobacco, producing a quality that meets your taste as no other cigarette ever did.

Camels' expert blend gives that mellow-mild-body and frees the cigarettes from any unpleasant cigarettey aftertaste or any unpleasant cigarettey odor. You can smoke Camels as liberally as you like without tiring your taste.

You have only to get personally acquainted with the expert Camel blend to know that you prefer it to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

For your own satisfaction compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes, or ten packages (100 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

tion went to ball ground or scattered themselves in convenient places on the hillside and witnessed the finest display of fireworks ever seen in this section of the county. The program consisted of 50 numbers and were of the latest novelties in that line. The purchase was made from the American-Italian Fire Works company, of Dunbar, Pa., who sent a competent man from the factory to handle the display. The committee spent $300 along this line and after the show was over no one had a kick coming at the expense.

In summing up the day's proceedings all the way along, we cannot refrain from saying that yesterday was the biggest day, amusements and otherwise, that the town has ever had, and will pass as an epoch in the town's history as having done everything that was advertised to take place, without a single thing being left out of the day's program. The visitors all seemed well pleased with the treatment received at the hands of Curwensville people generally, and with all events as they took place during the day. A low estimate placed on the number of people in town yesterday and a conservative one at that would be between six and seven thousand. Clearfield people turned out royally and were well pleased with everything that went on in the athletic line.

TO THE VOTERS OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY:

I wish to state that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

I do not expect to be able to make a general canvass of the County, as the duties of the office require practically all my time in Clearfield, and I don't feel that I should neglect my official duties to the extent required to make a general canvass.

I thank all who contributed to my nomination and election four years ago and solicit the vote and hearty cooperation of the Democratic voters at the coming primaries.

FARM FLOCKS IN CONTESTS

Demonstration to Show How Proper Management Will Increase Egg Production.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Something different in egg-laying contests is being carried on in Missouri this year. Instead of a few selected flocks competing under the care of experts, whole flocks of hens on the home farm and under the care of their owners are matched against similar flocks in all parts of the state. This is not only a contest to see which hens can lay the most eggs, the extension specialists say, but is also a demonstration to show how proper management will increase the egg production and profits of the farm flock.

The plan is to have one poultry keeper in each community of the various counties enter the contest. The contestants agree to care for their entire poultry flock as nearly as possible according to directions furnished by the poultry-extension workers through the office of the farm bureau. At the end of each month each contestant is to report expenses and income from his flock for the month. This plan will stimulate better methods of poultry management by demonstrating on a typical farm in the neighborhood the results which can be secured by proper care of the flock.

According to reports of the extension workers, 37 farm flocks are entered in the contest, with an average of 155 hens to the farm. In February the hens in the contest averaged 8.1 eggs. The value of eggs to the farm amounted to $32.08, the cost of feed per farm $18.17, and the average net profit $13.91. In the four months, November, December, January and February, eggs valued at $109.58 were produced on each farm at a cost for feed of $73.50 for each farm. White Leghorns averaged 25 eggs for the four months and led all breeds in egg yields.

The highest record in a similar contest held in the state last year was made by M. P. Holtan, living near Harding, who secured an average production of 140 eggs from a flock of 430 birds.

POULTRY NOTES

A dust bath is necessary to the health and productiveness of the hen.

Skin milk is a very efficient feed for producing eggs.

The laying hen has a bright red comb and a brilliant sheen about the feathers.

thirty seconds and was the result of a painful toe hold and body crush. Roberts legs were twisted under his body with the weight of the giant crushed into his ribs and shoulders bearing down gradually until he was pinned to the mat. The fans were well pleased with the exhibition during the half hour.

The second fall came at the end of thirty-two minutes additional struggle which was a little more strenuous than the first. The fans believed that Henderson was of the opinion that he could turn the trick at will and waited to permit the audience to get the benefit of their money. When the seventy-minute time limit under the handicap was near expiration, Henderson by a quick motion sought to turn Roberts lift him from the mat and flop him over his own body. According to Henderson, he lost his footing, landing on his own neck and shoulders and Roberts, with a like ease quickly nailed him with the arm scissors and arm lock. The big fellow writhed and turned but to no avail. He was there to stay and the referee declared the bout in favor of the oardman wonder.

According to Promoter Kazman Roberts received all of the gate receipts after expenses were paid. All that Henderson received was his expenses to Clearfield and return.

KARTHAUS-SURVEYOR GAME
AS SEEN BY A SPECTATOR

The game between Karthaus and Surveyor, played at Karthaus, Pa., Saturday, August 30th, resulted in a score of 9 to 0, in favor of Karthaus in six innings of play.

The score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Karthaus at the beginning of the sixth inning. In Surveyor's half they got three men on bases (two due to errors) and with two men down and two strikes called on the batter up, the runner on third attempted to steal home, but was caught by Rees, (Karthaus catcher) and because this score was not allowed the Surveyor team refused to finish the game and forfeited same to Karthaus 9 to 0.

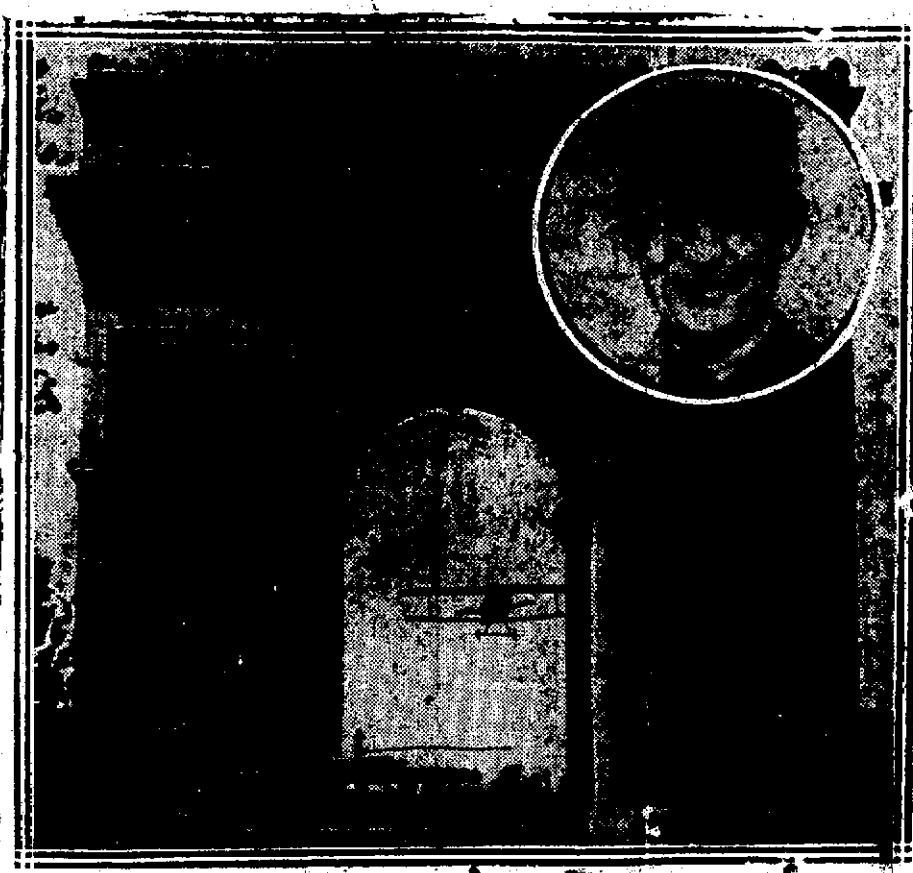

This is not the first instance in which Manager McCrory and his Surveyor bunch have developed "yellow streaks" in their ball-playing here. On August 9th the Surveyor team showed up at Karthaus with a "stuffed" nine, having only four or five players from Surveyor in their line-up, and with Bowes, one of Clearfield's best players to pitch the game. Karthaus, on the other hand was in a crippled condition, the best players of the infield being absent. In this game the Surveyor team won 6 to 0, and it was only by the excellent work of Karthaus battery that the score was kept down to that figure, only about three of their runs being earned. In the game of August 9th, Bowes and Bain were the battery used by Surveyor and Rolley and Bradford by Karthaus. It was understood that McCrory expected to use Bowes and Lester of Clearfield in last Saturday's game, therefore Karthaus engaged the services of Montgomery (a south-paw pitcher) and Long (second-baseman) of Bellefonte, with both Bradford and Rees behind the bat during the six innings of play. The Clearfield players expected by Surveyor did not show up, so Kratzer and Bain were the battery used.

Montgomery, pitching for Karthaus, used nothing but a straight ball with oceans of smoke and speed on it, and the Surveyor sluggers were cut down on strike-outs at the rate of about two men per inning. In short, it seemed that the Surveyor team knew they were "licked" and thought it best to quit before the score became too one-sided, so seized upon the first opportunity to do so, even though the game and expense money was forfeited.

BOARDMAN WONDER
WINS MATCH WITH
MORT HENDERSON

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief. All were on deck last night to witness the premier sporting event of the season locally when Mort Henderson, the Altoona professional wrestler went to the mat (shoulders pinned fast) with Leslie Roberts, the Boardman find of Promoter Katzman.

The house exceeded the fondest expectations of Mr. Katzman and the most conservative estimate places the attendance over five hundred. The preliminaries were good and fast and there were not enough of them to tire the crowd while waiting for the big doings.

Cathcart of Turkey Hill and Geo. Fehl of Clearfield were the first on the board and these two young bloods gave a magnificent exhibition of the sport until Cathcart was injured and had to quit the match. Fehl threw Cathcart at the end of a three minute, twenty second tussle using a head and arm hold. It was apparent that in the struggle Cathcart had been severely injured but he gamely stuck on his feet and answered the call of the referee for the second try. Cathcart grew weaker however and on the urgent advice of his seconds conceded the match to Fehl. Cathcart is an able boy and the fans were sorry to see him put out of the game. It is reported today that Cathcart has two broken ribs. He suffered a great deal of pain last evening.

Barone of Boardman and Gardner of Clearfield put on an equally interesting match. Barone being a newcomer at the game was continually on the defensive and held out against the Clearfield boy for almost ten minutes when a body scissor and arm lock brought him to the mat and held him helpless. At the end of the bout Barone was as fresh as a daisy and a good future is promised the boy.

While the crowd was plainly disappointed at the difference in size between the two main cards of the evening this was more than made up by the local interest in Roberts and the fine sportsmanlike attitude of his opponent from Altoona. Henderson is a veritable giant, weighing in at 210 pounds stripped, and along side of him Roberts looked like a pigny. Roberts was game however and approached his man with a show of confidence that brought applause from the fans. The first fall did not come until the two grapplers had warily side stepped and sparred for holds for more than twenty minutes followed by more or less mixing it up by quick lightning like movements. Repeatedly it appeared that the big fellow had Roberts in bad position but just as often a quick snakelike motion would bring his liberation. It soon became apparent that Mort was quite sure of his man and that he was throwing precaution to the winds. The first fall came at the end of thirty minutes and

Curwensville, Sept. 2—Yesterday will prove a memorial day in the history of Curwensville. For more than a month advertisements had been spread broadcast all over the county announcing that Curwensville was going to observe Labor Day in proper manner and combining sports and other amusements, the main feature of the day was the welcoming home of the soldiers and sailors who served in the World war by giving them a free dinner. The different committees having in charge the routine of the work, in its different branches, deserve considerable credit and praise for the manner in which their efforts were carried forward to a most successful day and time.

The rain of Sunday night sort of put a damper on the spirits of our citizens generally, and it looked very much as though the weather gauge was in a rage and had determined to make yesterday a wet day, but this did not prove to be the case, as the day opened with Old Sol sending forth rays of sunshine and warmth which made everything glad and everybody got busy hanging out decorations and preparing for the parade. The line was formed at 9:45, and was composed of two divisions the first division following on State street, right resting on Locust. The second division followed on Locust, with right resting on State street. The parade then moved up State to west end of town and countering turned at the Kirk corner to South Side. "KISS ME AGAIN
DRIGGS TOWN"

The fact that Frederick V. Driggs is the star of "Kiss Me Again" will be seen tonight at the theatre is reason enough why should go and see the production. Mr. Bowers, in addition to being one of America's best light comedians also one of the country's best composers and many of his best ballads are played in every home in the land. But there are other reasons for going to see "Kiss Me Again". In the first place it is an unusually good musical play, in second place, the cast contains well known musical comedy actors and besides there are pretty girls, lory and all that goes to make a docket of true Broadway propoganda. Everywhere "Kiss Me Again" has been seen it has left a long and agreeable criticism behind it and only persons who speak adversely of these who find nothing quite up to their conception of what a show should be. Seats are now on sale.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

precipitate this attraction furnished by Mr. Griesmer gratis and it was to be one of the leading cards of the day. The Curwensville people who otherwise would not have been here at all. This was the first opportunity that we country folks had to view an airplane at so close range, and we surely took advantage of it.

After the air machine had passed into the clouds and was hidden from view, the immense throng, viewing their way to the grounds and prepared to eat a good dinner at stands, stalls and baskets. Finding their repast the people stood about the grounds, eagerly awaiting the time for the sports to be put off as advertised, and the following program was faithfully carried during the afternoon:

100 yd. dash	3.00
Running broad jump	3.00
Running High Jump	3.00

Three-Legged race	4.00
Sack Race	2.00
Tub Race	2.00
Tug of War	5.00
Greased Pole Climb	Ham
Pie Eating contest	1.00

Both the Keystone and Crescent bands were on the grounds and the afternoon and pleased the people with their excellent music. Without further comment the Curwensville has two good parades as can be found in this part of the state.

A few words relative to the parade will not be amiss right here. 100 soldier boys were in line, were commanded by Lieutenant William Wolf. They certainly made a handsome appearance and marching was in accord with training. There was not a bunch of men, of all the represented but what made a parade. Of the boys' floats represented in the parade were beauties and unique. In fact it would be matter for anyone to name and most beautiful for all were designed and put to a master's mind and hand, writer has no fear of contradicting the statement that no town in field county ever paraded a finer line of floats than was in the Day parade of yesterday.

As the evening shades gathered, lovers of a game sought the athletic and witnessed a close sport defeating the Curwensville team. This ended the day and when darkness came land several thousand Curwensville residents

JUDGE LOVETT'S VIEW

The "Plumb Plan" is an out and out effort to Russianize America by peaceful methods until the power is fully in the hands of the laboring classes, said Judge Lovett, president of the Union Pacific Railway today in an interview. The "Plumb Plan" is the most bold and barefaced attempt at the wholesale robbery of a nation that has ever been attempted anywhere outside of Russia he said. The plan, Judge Lovett said, is the opening wedge for the sovietizing of all industry, and the final theft of all property by those who have envy in their hearts in place of the industry, that made the man of property. He declared that when the American people are fully awake to the actual trend of affairs in this country as indicated by the present industrial strikes and unrest, they will crush this effort of the malcontents to bring about national ruin and sequestration.

Judge Lovett declared that much of this element is completely out of control of its former sane and sensible leaders, and that it is now listening to the whispers of the radicals and Bolsheviks who are secretly promising looted riches and all other licenses.

NEW GRAND JURY PLAN WORKING

The new plan of calling the Grand Jury to pass upon the criminal cases to come before them some two weeks previous to the regular criminal court, recently decided upon by District Attorney Arnold and Judge Bell, is being tried out this week. The Grand Jury was called Monday morning and after appointing Daniel Marshall, of Brady township, as foreman, Judge Bell instructed the Grand Jurors as to their duties under the new plan of procedure.

The first case was taken up after the noon recess and since that time a great deal of business has been disposed of.

Under this plan the criminal court will know just what business is to be disposed of and the principals in each case will be notified at what particular time they are scheduled for trial. Then, too, there will be no waiting on Grand Jury action by the court and the business of criminal week should be greatly facilitated thereby.

HIGHER CIVILIZATION.

No truer nor better can civilization be defined, than in the language of our own Ralph Waldo Emerson, who while having gone to the grave years and years ago, yet lives, says Knoxville Journal and Tribune. He said: "The truest test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops, no, but the kind of men it turns out." We have statesmen, professional men, men in the walks of life who will measure up to a high standard; but will it be said we have many who will thus measure? Judged by that standard, can it be said that ours is a country that may justly lay claim to a high standard of civilization, or to anything like the highest attainable? Pages and chapters, volumes, have been written and read, and studied telling how to improve the quality of our domestic animals, with a view to the enhancement of their usefulness, to improve their appearance and approach perfection in the qualities upon which their usefulness is based. So it is, we have some women and some men who are taking an interest in the improvement of physical manhood. It is being claimed that a strong mind can do better work and more of it if encased in a sound, strong body, and to this end some interesting surveys have been and are being made.

A great many statesmen of the central powers are still living in the past. Poor old Czernin, who used to alternate as foreign minister with Burian, keeps on crying to the ghost of defeat, like Macbeth to Banquo's ghost. "Never shake thy gory locks at me," Austria, he says, was always willing that Germany should evacuate all Russian territory occupied by German troops. But Germany proved to be the obdurate party. Yet how about the case of Roumania? Did not Hungary try to satisfy some of her own little imperialist ends in the treaty of Bucharest? Czernin says he resigned in disgust after the signing of this treaty, which may well be, says New York Post. But the dual monarchy, at any rate, no more than Germany, could resist the temptation to loot its neighbors when opportunity offered. Had it not been for Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest there might never have been that terrible armistice of souls.

The last generation was reading in fiction of wonderful feats in air and under water for amusement. This generation is reading in its newspapers, facts surpassing the imaginary feats of former times as part of present daily life.

Instructor in 'Cello and Piano

'CELLO TAUGHT BY A TRUE ARTIST AT THE SUSQUEHANNA COLLEGE OF MUSIC

In teaching 'cello, that incomparable instrument, the Susquehanna College of Music is fortunate in having the services of Mrs. Jessie C. Schaeffer at the head of the department.

The full, round tones, the marvelous resemblance to a rich baritone voice, the almost human quality that can be drawn from the 'cello make it an instrument worthy of the closest study. To the pupils who consider the study of the 'cello, Mrs. Schaeffer has an experience to guide her, in her teaching that is seldom equaled outside of the largest conservatories. During 1917 Mrs. Schaeffer achieved great success with the Blondelle Ver Trease Concert Company. This company travelled extensively reaching the Pacific Coast on the tour. Mrs. Schaeffer was also a co-artist with Madame Edla Lund, the Swedish soprano. Her orchestral work with the Plover Symphony Orchestra, of Peoria, Ill., gave her a reputation in orchestra and ensemble music that enables Mrs. Schaeffer an ideal experience to impart to the students under her charge.

'Cello students are being enrolled at the College now and if you contemplate the study of this marvelous instrument; you should enroll now while you have choice of study hours.

HEAVY CUT IN COAL YIELD BY CAR SHORTAGE

Twelve Million Tons Lost in Ten Weeks By Inadequate Supply of Cars

600,000 MINERS PLAN TO ASK WAGE INCREASE

Operators Tell Senate Committee That Radical Miners Are Trying to Install Convict Methods in Mining.

Washington.—(Special.)—Shortage of cars in the coal fields has cut production of bituminous coal 12,000,000 tons in ten weeks and threatens to bring about a recurrence of the coal famine of 1917-18, unless checked without delay, according to testimony given by John Callahan, traffic manager of the National Coal Association, before the Senate committee investigating the coal situation, at its first day's hearing here.

"During the two weeks ending August 2 and 9," Mr. Callahan said, "car shortage caused the bituminous coal mines of the country to lose approximately 5,900,000 tons of coal, enough to supply the entire state of New Jersey for ten months. The loss in ten weeks has been sufficient to supply all the New England states for eight months."

Mr. Callahan declared that if there are not cars at the mines it is impossible to operate the mines to full-time capacity. The shortage of cars had come, he said, at the time demand for coal is increasing, and at a time when railroad efficiency should be at a maximum.

"If the bituminous coal operators of the country are given sufficient cars to take away the coal from the mine," Mr. Callahan said, "and if there are no labor disturbances to prevent the operation of their mines, they can supply sufficient fuel to meet the country's requirements next fall and winter. If they are not supplied with more cars, there undoubtedly will be a repetition of the coal shortage of 1917-18, at least to some degree."

Shortage of cars is not alone the only threatening situation in the industry, however, according to Harry N. Taylor of Kansas City, president of the association, who preceded Mr. Callahan on the witness stand. The 600,000 miners employed throughout the nation are about to formulate demands for higher wages, Mr. Taylor declared. The more radical among the number, he said, were endeavoring to apply the methods of the Soviet government of Russia to the bituminous industry. If their counsel should sway the more conservative of their numbers and extremely radical demands should be made, which could not be acceded to, Mr. Taylor said he doubted if the operators "could mine a pound of coal."

"To save the public from calamity," Mr. Taylor said, "it will be necessary to overcome three things; first, that we do not have an extraordinary severe winter; second, that the railroad administration move the coal in a regular manner, and third, that by effort of the miners we produce at least 11,000,000 tons of bituminous coal weekly for the remaining nineteen weeks of the year."

This is more than has been produced in any one week during the year thus far.

All wage agreements between miners and operators, Mr. Taylor said, would expire with the proclamation of peace by the President. The miners had already decided, Mr. Taylor said he was informed, in one section, to try to obtain a six hour working day, as against eight hours now, a five day week, and an increase in pay. They will meet in Cleveland, Ohio, September 9 he said, to decide on what demands to make of the operators, and there will be a joint conference between operators and miners at Buffalo September 25th.

"If this convention of September 25th fails in agreement," Mr. Taylor said, "I do not know whether we are going to be able to mine any coal or not. I very seriously doubt whether we will. With that condition confronting us in the mining world, the situation is very serious. If that goes into effect there is little or no hope of overcoming a very serious shortage of coal this winter and great suffering in the country."

Miners were given a substantial increase in wages by the President during the days of the fuel administration, Mr. Taylor said, and it was not uncommon in many fields for the industrious men, in times of full-time operation, to earn $15 a day or more. But they are getting restless, he said. "Already the more radical element are determined to put into effect the Soviet government of mines," he declared.

For hundreds of years the Nile floods have not varied ten days in their season.

Europe Must Get to Work if It Is to Be Saved, but It Must Be Helped

By FRANK A. VANDERLIP, New York Banker

There are forces of destruction which might be let loose as a result of after-war conditions that would be more fearful than the great war itself.

These are starvation, idle industry, crippled transportation, paralyzed markets, injured morale, shattered government credits.

Europe is but a great factory community, dependent in the main on world trade for much of its food and raw materials. There are only three ways in which they can pay for these things—by export of goods, by export of gold or by export of their credit. None of these nations can export goods at present, and they have no gold to spare. They must have credit.

Europe must get to work if it is to be saved, but it must be helped even to start to work.

America must be made to see the facts in their true relation and consequences, for America is almost the sole hope. If America will understand the situation and do her duty she is amply able to give the necessary aid.

This aid must be given in a big-spirited, scientific way. It is useless to give it in grudging measure or piecemeal to a few countries. We must regard the European situation as a unit.

Coupled with its duty America is face to face with its greatest opportunity. If the opportunity is grasped America will become the source of capital for world development and the greatest source of raw material for the world's industry.

Koreans Are Fish in a Red-Hot Frying-Pan, With the Jap as the Cook

By PYONG K. YOON, Korean National Association

To make the long story very short, I compare the situation of the Koreans in Korea at the present to that of a bunch of live fishes in a red-hot frying pan, with the Jap as the cook. God help us!

The Japanese unbearable oppression, tyranny and torture of the Koreans beyond endurance limits during the last fifteen years has driven the Koreans to the verge of starvation, and when the Koreans rise up to protest the Japs' tyranny and robbery the Japanese massacre the Koreans with bayonets, swords and guns, as at present, and term the Korean patriots "mobs," "bandits," etc.

Say what they may, but we Koreans are determined to regain our freedom, our country, our independence from Japan.

Rubberized Silks in Bathing Suits

Looking over the newest things in bathing suits one might easily conclude that fair bathers object to getting wet and only go into the water to get cool, or to be "in the swim" with their sister bathers. What they really object to (unless they possess Venus de Medic figures) is the way in which bathing togs cling and stick and the somewhat bedraggled appearance they are likely to make when they come out of the water. Nothing escapes the notice of the keen manufacturers of bathing togs and they have met this situation with suits on the order of that one shown in the picture.

Rubberized silk in rose color is used to make the shapely and modest overdress in this suit and it is trimmed with black and white checkered bands that give it a lot of snap. The long-waisted body is gathered into a wide flat band with the fullness brought to the sides and the skirt is managed in the same way, so that even bathing suits take note of the wider lips that are indicated in styles for fall.

The knickers for this suit are made of black satin and a vestee of the same material in the overdress bears them company. Black silk stockings and black satin slippers take care of the feet in an effective but inconspicuous fashion, while a gay little four-cornered cap of rose-colored rubber cloth puts a pretty finishing touch to the outfit.

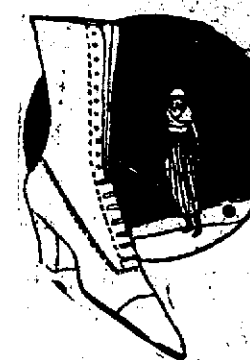

As no one aspires to a deep coat of tan this year, a black and white striped parasol lends its aid to face creams to keep the face and neck from too much sunburn.

Rubberized silks in brilliant colors have been used in much more elaborate beach clothes than this very sensible suit, and even for those who prefer silk or wool in their swimming clothes, mantles and capes of rubberized silk prove slightly for wear on the beach and for the walk to and from it.

Pile Fabrics Popular

The prophecy that, when the price of a pile fabric clashes with that of a fair quality fur, the latter is preferred, does not seem to be borne out in the operations of the cloak manufacturers for fall. Pile fabrics in the most expensive makes are proving so popular with the buyers that it is estimated the supply is going to fall far short of the demand. The pile fabric makers believe that the most important reason for this successful competition of their product with fur is that the imitation has reached a stage where it is difficult to tell the difference between it and the real thing. Another reason ascribed is the better wearing quality of the artificial fur.

Quality Footwear For Fall

Quality combined with excellence of style at reasonable prices.

This is our argument. We are doing our part to lower living costs by giving the utmost in value at prices that mean a saving of dollars.

The new boots for fall are beautiful in design and workmanship. The variety is large affording ample opportunity to match your new gown—and the prices are very moderate.

The program consisted of 50 numbers and were of the latest novelties in that line. The committee spent $300 along this line and after the show was over no one had a kick coming at the expense.

In summing up the day's proceedings all the way along, we cannot refrain from saying that yesterday was the biggest day, amusements and otherwise, that the town has ever had, and will pass as an epoch in the town's history as having done everything that was advertised to take place, without a single thing being left out of the day's program. The visitors all seemed well pleased with the treatment received at the hands of Curwensville people generally, and with all events as they took place during the day. A low estimate placed on the number of people in town yesterday and a conservative one at that would be between six and seven thousand. Clearfield people turned out royally and were well pleased with everything that went on in the athletic line.

FARM FLOCKS IN CONTESTS

Demonstration to Show How Proper Management Will Increase Egg Production.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Something different in egg-laying contests is being carried on in Missouri this year. Instead of a few selected flocks competing under the care of experts, whole flocks of hens on the home farm and under the care of their owners are matched against similar flocks in all parts of the state. This is not only a contest to see which hens can lay the most eggs, the extension specialists say, but is also a demonstration to show how proper management will increase the egg production and profits of the farm flock.

The plan is to have one poultry keeper in each community of the various counties enter the contest. The contestants agree to care for their entire poultry flock as nearly as possible according to directions furnished by the poultry-extension workers through the office of the farm bureau. At the end of each month each contestant is to report expenses and income from his flock for the month. This plan will stimulate better methods of poultry management by demonstrating on a typical farm in the neighborhood the results which can be secured by proper care of the flock.

According to reports of the extension workers, 37 farm flocks are entered in the contest, with an average of 155 hens to the farm. In February the hens in the contest averaged 8.1 eggs. The value of eggs to the farm amounted to $32.08, the cost of feed per farm $18.17, and the average net profit $13.91. In the four months, November, December, January and February, eggs valued at $109.58 were produced on each farm at a cost for feed of $73.50 for each farm. White Leghorns averaged 25 eggs for the four months and led all breeds in egg yields.

The highest record in a similar contest held in the state last year was made by M. P. Holtan, living near Harding, who secured an average production of 140 eggs from a flock of 430 birds.

POULTRY NOTES

A dust bath is necessary to the health and profitability of the hen.

Skin milk is a very efficient feed for producing eggs.

The laying hen has a bright red comb and a brilliant sheen about the feathers.

thirty seconds and was the result of a painful toe hold and body crush. Roberts legs were twisted under his body with the weight of the giant crushed into his ribs and shoulders bearing down gradually until he was pinned to the mat. The fans were well pleased with the exhibition during the half hour.

The second fall came at the end of thirty-two minutes additional struggle which was a little more strenuous than the first. The fans believed that Henderson was of the opinion that he could turn the trick at will and waited to permit the audience to get the benefit of their money. When the seventy-minute time limit under the handicap was near expiration, Henderson by a quick motion sought to turn Roberts lift him from the mat and flop him over his own body. According to Henderson, he lost his footing, landing on his own neck and shoulders and Roberts, with a like ease quickly nailed him with the arm scissors and arm lock. The big fellow writhed and turned but to no avail. He was there to stay and the referee declared the bout in favor of the oardman wonder.

According to Promoter Kazman Roberts received all of the gate receipts after expenses were paid. All that Henderson received was his expenses to Clearfield and return.

INFORMATION FOR SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES FOR VOTING PRIVILEGES

The present session of legislature has made provision whereby any soldier, sailor or marine in service, or who has served in the army or navy of the United States and who has returned to his home, shall be entitled to vote in his respective election district even though he has not been assessed and has not paid the usual taxes, or is not personally registered in the district in which he resides, provided that such election at which he offers to vote shall occur at such time as has prevented him from being assessed and from having paid his usual taxes and where the same is necessary from having been personally registered after his return to his home as is required in the case of an elector by the constitution.

The provision of this Act requires that he shall produce to the election officer a receipt from the proper tax collector setting forth that such person has paid a county tax of ten cents (10c). The several tax collectors are authorized to receive such tax of ten cents.

All that is necessary for a soldier, sailor or marine who has returned after the registration period in townships and boroughs is for him to pay ten cents to the tax collector in his voting district, secure a tax receipt for that amount, and be prepared to produce it to the election board on day of the election.

The same rule applies to DuBois City except that he should present his tax receipt to the Registrar of his voting precinct on one of the days for registration of voters in Third Class Cities.
